

REDDOT AI PLATFORM

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

An excellent opportunity exists to acquire the intellectual property and associated assets of Behold.AI Technologies Limited (in Liquidation), a pioneering UK-based MedTech company behind the award-winning RedDot artificial intelligence platform for radiology.

The RedDot platform leverages advanced deep learning algorithms to assist healthcare professionals in the early and accurate detection of critical medical conditions from radiological images, significantly improving diagnostic turnaround times and reducing pressure on radiology departments.

The platform has been used by multiple NHS Trusts, RedDot has demonstrated exceptional accuracy and is designed to integrate seamlessly into existing hospital systems including PACS and RIS.

This offering includes the core AI software engine, associated IP rights, regulatory documentation, technical manuals, trade marks, and branding assets. The platform's proven performance, regulatory approvals, and commercial traction present a compelling opportunity for strategic acquirers in the healthcare technology, AI, and diagnostics sectors.
