

PROJECT PAGE

BUSINESS OVERVIEW

Gordon Brothers is delighted to present an opportunity to acquire the business and assets of Project Page, developer of a sophisticated AI-powered writing tool designed for authors, writers, and publishers.

The company's core mission was to revolutionise the creative writing process by providing a powerful, AI-driven co-authoring tool for non-fiction books. The platform has been developed to assist authors across all stages in the writing process, including structure, content, formatting and editing.

The company's patent-protected technology gives users the option of uploading their content via speech, significantly accelerating the drafting process and underpinning the platform's offering as an accessible and cost-effective tool.

The business and assets represent a compelling acquisition for established publishing houses, creative software providers, or media companies seeking to integrate advanced generative AI for content creation.
